Privacy Notice:

Computershare is committed to protecting your personal information. In the course of providing services to you and our corporate clients, we receive non-public personal information about you from transactions we perform for you, forms you send us, other communications we have with you or your representatives, etc. This information could include your name, contact details (such as residential address, correspondence address, email address), social insurance number, survey responses, securities holdings and other financial information. We use this to administer your account, to better serve you and our clients' needs and for other lawful purposes relating to our services. Computershare may transfer personal information to other companies in or outside of Canada that provide data processing and storage or other support in order to facilitate the services it provides. Where we share your personal information with other companies to provide services to you, we ensure they have adequate safeguards to protect your personal information. We also ensure the protection of rights of data subjects under the General Data Protection Regulation, where applicable. We have prepared a Privacy Code to tell you more about our information practices, how your privacy is protected and how to contact our Chief Privacy Officer. It is available at our website, www.computershare.com, or by writing to us at 100 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario, M5J 2Y1.

You are required to provide your SIN if we require it for income reporting. Computershare may also ask for your SIN as an identification-security measure if you call or write to request service on your account; however you may decline this usage.

3. NOTES

Caution: In some provinces, your designation of beneficiary (with the exception of a designation of a successor holder of a TFSA, RRIF or Spousal RRIF) by means of a designation form will not be revoked or changed automatically by any future marriage or divorce, or establishment or breakdown of a common-law partnership. If you wish to change your beneficiary, you will have to do so by means of a new designation.

Quebec: Any beneficiary or successor annuitant/holder designations made using this form by a person domiciled in Quebec, either at the time of execution or at the time of their death, may not be honoured and the assets of the Registered Plan may be payable to the estate of the deceased.

Successor vs Beneficiary(ies): If (i) you have designated both a successor holder and one or more beneficiary(ies) above, (ii) your designated successor holder remains your spouse or common-law partner, and (iii) both are alive at your death, then the designation of a successor holder takes precedence.

Multiple Beneficiaries: You must ensure that the percentage numbers you may fill in above total to 100 percent. If they do not, all listed beneficiaries will be deemed to have been designated with an equal percentage. If a beneficiary you have designated dies before you, that beneficiary's percentage entitlement will, subject to applicable law, be paid to your estate.

Governing Law: If you are domiciled in Canada when you die, this form will be governed by the laws of your province/territory of domicile at that time. If you are not, the laws of your Canadian Province/territory of domicile at the time of execution of this form will apply. Otherwise, the laws of Ontario will apply.
